

I do not think that our law on phone privacy act should be messed with. I used to get about ten phone calls a week, and it was very annoying. If I wanted to be annoyed by these calls all the time I would not have signed up for the list. I do not want the law changed just because companys want to try and sell me something or beg for money, so do not mess with the law.....